

PRESCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Week of December 7th

This week, we will start a unit on Christmas around the world. We will learn about traditions in the US, Mexico, England, and Germany. I will send a sheet home early in the week that asks about your family's Christmas traditions to share with the class. On Tuesday afternoon, we will make sopapillas! I am very excited about this because we are going to make them the way my late grandmother taught me when I was a child 😊 Last week, we celebrated our first "farmer" (student) of the week. Fiona likes to go camping and play with her sister! Each week, we will highlight a student in the class for farmer of the week. We also welcomed a new friend in the classroom- Zaidi!

REMINDERS

- I sent home a homework activity- disguise the gingerbread man. In past years, the gingerbread men/women have been disguised as Yoda, the Queen of England, a rainbow, a construction worker, and more! I can't wait to see what you all create 😊 The gingerbread men/women are "due" by December 11th!

IMPORTANT DATES

December 21-Jan 1- Winter Break

Christmas Gifts- Our class will work on Christmas gifts to the parents this week. They will go home by Friday, December 11th. They are fragile!
