

HERE'S the SCOOP

March 2nd - 6th

LOOK WHAT WE ARE LEARNING

The kids have loved writing letters and sending packages in our post office. There is no shortage of love or hearts in our classroom. We learned about Black History and the huge impact that these incredible humans have had on our country.

For the next several weeks we are going to delve into fairy tales. We will be reading, retelling, and reenacting Cinderella and Rapunzel during the first week.

Starting March 9th, please just drop off your child and their belongings and then you may leave. I will do their morning sign-in and cutting with them if they need help. I want them to become more independent, and it to feel more like a kindergarten drop-off. I want them prepared as much as possible for kindergarten. This is hard for some parents. I am also sad, because I really miss my conversations in the morning with all of you! Thank you for working together to build your child's independence.

This week's academic focus:

Literacy: The grapheme W spells /w/ and The grapheme J spells /j/

Math: Numerals 11-14
