

HERE'S the SCOOP

April 27th - May 1ST

LOOK WHAT WE ARE LEARNING

We worked patiently and diligently as paleontologists this week. We gained knowledge about Predators, flying reptiles and Fossils this week.

Next week we are going to learn about Spring and the weather that transpires during this season. We will be doing a wind and a rain experiment.

I can't believe we have less than 26 days of school. We have begun kindergarten abc countdown. Each day the teacher helper finds the correct letter on a balloon and they pop the balloon. Inside each balloon is a piece of paper that tells us what the activity of the day is. The activity will begin with the same letter. We will read the message the day before.

This week's academic focus:

Literacy: Short Oo Review

Math: Adding Zeros, Story Problems, Decomposing, and Assessment
