Classroom News

This week we are continuing our All About Farms unit and how they help the community. Students are discovering what kinds of farms there are. What farmers and animals give us. Next week is a short week and we will be learning about thanksgiving. We will be exploring why we celebrate Thanksgiving. We will discuss family traditions and our favorite thanksgiving foods, why we need to give thanks and how we can show kindness and be helpful to our family. We will have a friends giving on Tuesday at lunch. Sign up sheet is attached to email if you would like to bring in some thanksgiving food. Thanksgiving Family night is this Thursday Nov. 16, from 6-7pm. Thanksgiving is a wonderful time to stop and remind ourselves and family to be thankful. Though gratitude should be encouraged all year long, this holiday provides the perfect segway for families to implement a heart of thankfulness. At family night we will have thanksgiving activities, books and treats to help get everyone involved in the spirit of gratitude. I am grateful for all of you and hope to see everyone there.
